Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "bait" free any more than a merchant can take over his counter for a pile of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

HECHINGER & CO.'S FALL STYLES

Weavers' wits were never more versatile in producing attractive loom effects. Skill in wholesale tailoring has made marvelous progress in recent years. No better evidence is needed than a critical inspection of ready-to-wear clothing made for them. There is a nicety of detail, a carefulness of finish, a symmetry of cut that denotes master minds and master hands. This not only has reference to their clothing, but also to their other different departments. Nowhere will you see so handsome a display of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, fine shirts, Hats, Collars and Ties as Hechinger & Co. show.

Have You Looked at Their Stock of Smith & Stoughton

SHOES?

Recognizing the needs of their patrons, Hechinger & Co. arranged with Messrs. Smith & Stoughton, one of the most prominent manufacturers of fine Men's Shoes in the country, to sell their goods. See their window display of them and you will not wonder that although but thirty days elapsed since the first shipment arrived they are already doing the Men's Fine Shoe business of the town.

DISASTER

Fall of Robinson's Opera House, Cincinnati.

TWO KILLED—FIFTY HURT!

Mrs. A. L. Scudder and Daughter of This City Among the Injured.

THE HARROWING PARTICULARS

During the performance at Robinson's Opera-house at Cincinnati last night the building fell with a terrific crash, engulfing the large audience in the ruin.

The title of the play was "Dangers of a Great City," and the disaster comes in the light of a remarkable coincidence.

Among the injured are Mrs. Arch. L. Scudder and daughter Miss Mary, formerly of this city; but THE LEDGER is gratified to state that both are being cared for at the Cincinnati Hospital, and that their injuries are but slight.

Two persons were killed outright and fifty-two more or less seriously injured.

Below are such particulars as have been obtainable up to the time of going to press:

REALISTIC.

The Dome of Robinson's Opera House, Cincinnati, Falls

During the Performance of the Comedy, "Dangers of a Great City."

Three Persons Instantly Killed and Many Wounded, Some Fatally in a Panic That Followed—The Play Billed for Next Week Was "Under the Dome."

CINCINNATI, Oct. 16.—At the beginning of the first act of "Dangers of a Great City" at Robinson's opera house, Friday evening, there was a sharp crack in the ceiling of the theater, and a piece of plastering a foot long and three inches wide fell into the orchestra from the east side. Many of the audience started to their feet, but there was no further intimation of trouble.

At the end of the second act the stage hands were setting the scenes, and little Alice Opie, child specialist, was in front of the curtain doing her act as "Yellow Kid." Suddenly and without further warning, the huge dome of the theater fell with a deafening crash onto the chairs, a distance of a hundred feet.

A panic ensued. Women screamed, men groaned and the most frightful scenes were enacted. The little child actress ran behind the curtain, and all lights were extinguished by the breaking of the main electric wire. In five minutes ten patrol wagons and as many fire engines and ladder companies were surrounding the opera house, and a howling mob was rushing about interfering with the work of rescue.

Louis Dickinson, assistant treasurer, who had just started from the gallery with the receipts of that department, was caught in the crowd and carried into the alley south of Ninth street before he could stop.

A dozen with broken arms and bloody faces and torn clothes were carried into Bacharach's saloon, opposite the theater. Several doctors, who were in the crowd, volunteered their services, and dressed the wounds. These people were afterward taken to the city hospital, and some walked to their homes. Capt. Conway and his salvage corps, who were first on the scene, seized the broken bodies, and not stopping to care whether they were dead or alive, placed off with them to the hospital.

As fast as the patrol wagons arrived they were filled with limp bodies and rushed to the hospital.

Several of the actors, all the men in the company, rendered heroic assistance in the rescue, and by the use of hanging ladders to pull out the unfortunate.

Not more than three people were killed outright. While the excitement was at its height another crash came. It was the entire ceiling tearing away from the rafters and tumbling down upon the mass of struggling humanity below. It sounded like a whirlwind and the noise was heard for a square around. Hundreds rushed to the front of the building on the outside, but were met by the streams of people rushing from the inside and driven back against the street. Many were crushed under foot.

An arbitrary call was sent in for every patrol wagon in the city and a general fire alarm was sounded.

A man named Goldberg, living at 643 Broadway street, was struck in the breast of Al Bochner at Eighth street and Central avenue. He had a fractured skull and was taken to the city hospital, still dying.

Several women sat on the steps of the hotel and fainted dead away. They were revived by passersby.

Col. Peggy Ryan, state secret service officer, was standing across the street, and rushed into the theater and helped carry out the wounded.

Mrs. George Kleeman died at the hospital at 10 p. m. She was the daughter-in-law of Nick Kleeman, the famous fire store of Al Bochner at Eighth street and Central avenue. He had a fractured skull and was taken to the city hospital, still dying.

Henry Fleck, 602 Broadway, in balcony, and two children have not been heard from. They are not at the hospital.

A daughter of George Otto, of the water works department, is at the hospital, seriously injured. He is at the hospital in a dangerous condition.

The following are in the hospital more or less seriously injured: Della Alger and her three children; Mrs. J. J. McCall, Clint Deal, Jacob West, Mary Hess, John White, Amelia West, Mary Howe, Mary Moorman, Twelfth and City streets.

The dead are: An unknown man, Miss Lucy Cohen and Mrs. Geo. Kleeman.

The dangerously, if not fatally, injured are Mr. Goldberg, Mrs. Scudder, Mary Studier, Mary Haas and an unknown. In addition to the above there were probably twenty-five or thirty slightly injured as to be able to wait home.

The dangerously injured at the hospital several will require amputation, yet every one is refusing to submit to the operation. A score of surgeons volunteered their assistance to the hospital corps. A sufficient number was accepted. The wonder is that so few were hurt and of the few, so many escaped with slight injuries.

The show being played was "Dangers of a Great City." The show underlined for next week was "Under the Dome."

The cause of the accident Friday night seems to have been caused by the falling of the dome. The cause of the falling of the dome had fallen was President George W. Rapp, of the Cincinnati Chapter American Institute of architects.

"It was not that dome," said he, pointing to the huge heap in the center of the theater, "it was the trouble. The fault lies with the roof trusses. The house has been built more than 25 years, and the wood has shrunk until the bolts and nails afforded the smallest possible security. One of these trusses had rotted away from the top, and the other had broken and thrown the two sections down, and they in their descent pulled the dome with them. These wood trusses are of pine and they shrink very perceptibly in the course of years. They should be examined every five or six years. Modern trusses are put up with steel trusses. The roof of this theater is liable to come down any minute."

Friday night's disaster recalls forcibly a more fearful one which took place in the same building in February, 1875. Friday night there was a real cause for the panic and loss of life, there was no cause whatever except the wickedly foolish cry of fire from the balcony. The shouting came from the balcony light in the upper gallery. The huge panic spread mostly with women and children to witness an allegory of America given by hundreds of school children. With the single cry of fire in such an assembly the mischief was done. Plunging into the aisles and rushing down the stairways and toward the wide doorway leading to the street, the inevitable blockade of fallen human bodies occurred and the wild and savage struggle for escape began. The shrieks and cries of the dreadful mischief. Only when all outward progress was absolutely blocked and time was given to the living to see their senseless to discover that there was no fire and no cause for alarm did the insane panic cease. Then followed the sickening rescue of the score or more of the dead and the many others who were injured. Friday night's catastrophe, however, had a real cause for panic and if the conditions had been the same as those of the 1875 horror, the result would have been fearful beyond calculation.

WHAT IT INDICATES.

Nothing so interferes with one's plans or ambition like sickness or poor health. Have you ever thought that your kidneys may be the cause of your sickness? You can easily find out by testing aside your urine for twenty-four hours; sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stands clear it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

It is a source of comfort to know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the great remedy for all kidney and bladder complaints. It relieves pain, stings and itching in the back, difficult or painful urination, frequent desire to urinate, bleeding or pain in passing it, and quickly overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. Its action is gentle, yet immediate, the relief speedy and the cure permanent. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention THE PUBLIC LEADER and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

MANY CRIMES

Committed By Spanish Soldiers
in Santa Clara Province.

Women Tortured, Babes Bayoneted and Invalids Massacred.

A Reign of Murder, Rape and Robbery—Brigadier Gonzales Victorious in Several Small Engagements—The Spanish Never From the Fighting.

HAVANA, Oct. 18.—The correspondent of the New York Sun in Santa Clara province, now in the field with the Cuban division commanded by Brigadier L. Gonzales, sends the following account of crimes committed by the Spanish army in that part of the island.

On September 15 a Spanish column among the hills El Maney, near Jatibano, found seven families of pacifists who had there taken refuge from the concentration. They were all driven to the town of Arroyo Blanco, on the way the women were robbed and the children bayoneted. After marching for more than ten Spanish leagues, barefooted, they arrived in the utmost state of exhaustion. One of the women demanded her child and was tortured to make her keep silent. A detachment of Cubans followed the column to rescue the victims, but without success, although several volleys were exchanged with the column.

The Cuban lieutenant, Angel Hernandez, reconnoitering among the hills of El Maney, where the families were made prisoners, found near a tree the missing child of the hapless woman.
The child was dying, wounded in the chest by the thrust of a Spanish bayonet. He was treated by a Cuban doctor, but died in two hours. He was only 4 years old.

In the department of Palmarito the peasant countryman, Susano Garcia, was living in a hut with his wife, his mother-in-law, 67 years old and an invalid, and three children. On the night of the raid the hut on September 17, shot the old woman, and carried Garcia, his wife and the children prisoners to the town of Yaguajay.

Yaguajay Garcia's wife died suddenly of heart failure, produced by her sufferings.

On September 12, near Puerto Escor-dido, another pacifist, Bartolo Ramos, was found by the Spaniards gathering some vegetables for his family. He was murdered. The Cubans buried him. Several bayonet wounds were in his chest.

On September 18 an old Cuban woman named Ana Bofl was found by a Spanish guerrilla near the same place. She was trying to escape to a near-by town with $300, which was all her fortune.
She was robbed and assassinated.

The same guerrilla, on the same day, arrested the pacifist Rafael Jimenez and carried him fettered to the town of Buenavista, where his wife was dying from starvation. He was driven out of the town to seek some food for her. The following day he was murdered and mutilated in the streets of the town.

The most thrilling of all these crimes is the one committed on September 29, at the sugar estate of Santa Clara, near Pia Santos and her husband, Ventura Santos, lived in a hut with their children, among the mountains of Can-tano. There a Spanish column discovered them that day, and they were brought to the estate Dolores. The wife of Santos, on arriving at the estate, gave birth to a child. The Spanish soldiers put her on a box of ammunition and
with their machetes and bayonets cut
her to pieces. The unfortunate Santos tried to defend his wife and fought for
her with his bare hands, but was quickly overpowered.

A detachment of the same Spanish force shot that evening Manuel Puentes, a prisoner of war. All those who were present at the fighting, and always have been corroborated by witnesses who joined the patriotic forces of Brigadier Gonzales. A Spanish column discovered them that day, and they were brought to the estate Dolores. The wife of Santos, on arriving at the estate, gave birth to a child. The Spanish soldiers put her on a box of ammunition and
with their machetes and bayonets cut
her to pieces. The unfortunate Santos
tried to defend his wife and fought for
her with his bare hands, but was quickly overpowered.

A DECISION

Handled Down by the Court of Appeals Walsh Kentucky, Oct. 16.—The court of appeals in the local opinion Law-FRANKFORD, Ky., Oct. 16.—In the court of appeals Friday morning Chief Justice Lewis handed down an opinion which knocks out the sensational construction that was put on an old opinion, and by which it was thought most of the local opinion towns of the state had become "wet" on September 28.
He virtually holds that all these are as "dry" as they ever were.

The opinion is in the case of Stamper vs. the Commonwealth from Carter county.
It explains the old opinion of Judge Hazelrigg, which, he says, did not mean that all these local seats would stand repealed September 28, but that on that day the penalties provided in all these local acts must become uniform. This uniform penalty is now in existence, he says, and consists of a fine of from $100 to $200 for each violation of these local acts which do not otherwise conflict with the constitution and which are still in force.

BRIDE WENT INSANE

After the Wedding, and Now She Must Go to an Asylum.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 16.—A sad case came to light Friday morning in the criminal court when an inquest was held to pass upon the mental condition of a bride who had been brought into the city from a small town in the country.

The bride, who is Mrs. Mollenkamp, who is 25 years old, was married August 20 to Ben Mollenkamp, a well-known man of the city.
They went on the day of their marriage to Mollenkamp's home, and on the following day Mrs. Mollenkamp began to exhibit signs of insanity. Her condition has been growing gradually worse.

The physicians are of the opinion that her insanity was superinduced by the excitement of marriage. Her sister has been in the asylum two days. The jury which heard the case declared her to be of unsound mind. She was taken to the asylum.

last the child was taken to the hospital. There a Spanish column discovered them that day, and they were brought

LEGS CUT OFF.

Frightful Accident on the C. and O. at Russell Last Night.

George Fish, freight brakeman on the C. and O. Railroad, met with a serious accident at Russell last night.

It is supposed that Fish fell from the cars, landing in such a position that both legs were cut off.

Mr. Fish is a brother of Conductor Fish, and is well known in this city.

SKINNING THE SINNERS.

Colonel Silas A. Clift Pays His Respects to Sundry Politicians.

If you've never heard Colonel Silas A. Clift scalp the politicians, you've lost a good deal of life's charms.

The Mayslick orator was billed for an outbreak at the Courthouse yesterday afternoon, and the few that were present enjoyed a treat.

Colonel Clift was in feeble health, but said he had made the appointment and would fill it as best he could.

He took the ground that silver was the established money of the Bible, that the laws of man had no right to change the medium of circulation, and demanded to know any Government that had established gold as its only money.

The speaker was quite ironical, and his "roast" of the local Democratic Goldbugs was amusing, especially his references to "Lord" Perrie and "Apostle" Longnecker.

He then paid his respects, seriatim, to Mason's Representatives at Frankfort, beginning with Dr. Frazer and winding up with Jim "Cale." The latter, he said, had changed his name; before he went to Frankfort it was Ca-hill; but honors had so turned his head that it was now "Cale."

Mr. Clift had voted for Mr. Cahill in his first race, and he had made a mistake after going to Frankfort; he had gotten into the Feeble-minded Institute, and remained there two weeks after the Legislature had adjourned without knowing it, and he intended to vote for him again, because he wanted him to go back to Frankfort and see the Legislature this time.

The speaker then referred to Hon. Walter Matthews and his famous "Black-knot" Law, which was identical with a statute that existed in England three hundred years ago.

He said he had voted for one Republican in the last county election, and he did so for the sole reason that the Republican had been content throughout his whole life—"He was born as a man as he is, and he was as mean as hell yet."

Mr. Clift was too feeble to continue, though there were loud calls for him to go on.

Y. M. C. A. MATTERS.

What the Local Association is Doing For the City's Young Men.

The Men's Rally will be held tomorrow afternoon and hereafter at 3 o'clock, instead of four. "Loyalty to the Home" is to be treated by Rev. J. S. Sims, and every young man ought to hear this important theme presented. A heavy welcome to all men young and old.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Soliciting Committee held in the Association parlors Friday afternoon, reports of progress were made by the canvassers of four city wards with the following excellent result: First Ward, $6 95; Third Ward, $10 05; Fifth and Sixth Wards, $17 20; total, $34 20.

When it is considered that these donations consist largely of dimes and quarters with some half-dollars and dollars, and further that this canvass is not yet completed in any ward, or even partially reported from the Second and Fourth Wards, the result seems very encouraging and gives evidence of the general interest which the ladies of the city have in this important work for our young men. The canvass will be continued next week at the convenience of the Committee members, and it is earnestly hoped that not less than $75 in all will be secured and if possible $100. This fund will be used by the ladies to advance the local association work in certain lines. The Treasurer of the Committee, Miss Amy Pfister, will be pleased to receive contributions from any who have been misled by mistake in the canvass.

"Les Miserables." Victor Hugo's masterpiece of fiction and sociology, has been barred out of the Girls' High School of Philadelphia on the ground that it is impure.
